WHO ARE WE?

Academics for Peace (AfP) was founded in November 2012 in the aftermath of a statement that supported Kurdish prisoners' demands. Today, what is known as the AfP are the signatories of the petition "We will not be a party to this crime!" which was made public in January 2016. 2212 academics signed this peace petition to draw the public's attention to the brutal acts of violence perpetrated by the state in the Kurdish regions of Turkey. The signatories were targeted by heavy smear campaigns, disciplinary and criminal investigations. More than 250 signatories have been individually sued in various Assize Courts of Istanbul. Several signatories have been condemned with 15 months of imprisonment. Academics for Peace who have been dismissed from their positions continue in producing and sharing knowledge in solidarity academies.

TO SUPPORT US:

- Sign the petition to support the academic non-cooperation with complicit institutions in Turkey;
- Inform your professional organizations and university senators to take action against complicit institutions, such as The Scientific and Technological Research Council of Turkey (TUBITAK);
- Contact bakuluslarsi@gmail.com if you want to attend the trials as an observer, or write to a human rights organization to send a delegate;
- Support dismissed scholars financially;
- Share and spread this call for solidarity; show your solidarity by following up on the trials, commenting on them in your blogs, social media and/or writing a news article.
- Support solidarity academies.
